

Josephine Geronimo

Biography

Its only natural that artistry was ingrained in me. My father was an illustrator and painter, my two maternal uncles are comic & animation artists, as are my only two brothers. Drawing & painting to me is plain instinct. It was a birthright.

I have a Bachelors Degree in Fine Arts majored in Advertising, I have painted large scale murals in Japan. I worked as an Art Director for many years in top Advertising agencies in Manila and Dubai, UAE before immigrating to Canada and evolved into a graphic designer, illustrator, portrait painter, and now tattoo artist. I now call Vancouver my hometown.

I am very passionate about painting the human face and figure. I enjoy the whole process of seeing the final result of my painting as I don't plan what comes out, the rendition just flows through in the process.